Job Corps offers career training in a variety of industries and provides hands-on practical training that will translate into real-world experience toward a successful career.

For Job Corps trainees who need to finish high school, a SIATech school campus is located on center! SIATech high school classes are designed to be taken along with your Job Corps classes, so that you are learning the academic skills you need for your career technical training. SIATech graduates earn a WASC-accredited high school diploma.
